

Graduate Courses in Bullying Prevention & Diversity

Delaware Valley College & David M Hall Associates <http://bullyingpreventionstudies.com>

Online graduate courses that are always in session, wherever you are.

Ready. Click. Learn.

Delaware Valley College and David M Hall Associates

Teachers face demanding schedules and want to take practical graduate courses on bullying prevention and diversity. This program provides online, accredited courses. Complete our five courses and obtain a Delaware Valley College certificate in Bullying Prevention & Diversity.

Are you looking for classes that help you create a more inclusive school environment and significantly reduce bullying and aggressive behavior?

This program provides online, accredited courses with leading instructors. Complete each course according to your own schedule, wherever you are. Stream sections of the course whenever you'd like, and have your professor ready to respond to any questions and concerns in a timely manner.

Course Requirements:

In order to obtain the Bullying Prevention & Diversity certificate, graduate students are required to earn a B minimum in each of the following courses:

- Bullying Prevention in Schools
- Bullying and Social Networking
- Bystanders and Bullying Prevention
- Diversity in Schools
- The LGBT Inclusive School

Registration:

These three-credit graduate course are $720 each. Students are invited to take all five courses to obtain the certificate, OR students can simply enroll in the graduate courses of interest.

To register...

- Visit <http://bullyingpreventionstudies.com> and click "Register Now."
- Pick your course(s).
- A 3 credit graduate course is $720.
- You will receive a $25 rebate within 7 days for each course if you enter this discount code - montconurse1000 - in the final field when you register your account.
- You will automatically be provided with your registration information, password and receipt.
- You will now have access to your course's streaming video, slides, professor contact information, resources and more.
- Log on whenever you want from wherever you are. It's that simple: Ready. Click. Learn.

"David M Hall Associates provides engaging activities and invaluable resources..."

- Betty North, elementary teacher